General Information

Editorial objective:

Our goal is to give readers of the magazine concrete information about tendencies and events within the food industry. The magazine's own journalists write about technology within the processing and packaging field, about consumer tendencies, about legal aspects, new research and marketing. Once a year - in September - we scrutinise in details the economic performance results of the top 100 Danish food manufacturers and select the winners and the losers. Apart from the industrial topics and special features, each publication will contain a wealth of information, which makes LevnedsmiddelBladet a very important tool in the hands of the target groups.

10 good reasons for choosing LevnedsmiddelBladet:

- 1 LevnedsmiddelBladet provides practical information on trends and events in the food sector together with articles about new technologies, consumer trends, legislation, new research, and marketing.
- 2 Each issue of LevnedsmiddelBladet has a theme which gives the reader the latest knowledge on topical areas in the food industry.
- 3 In addition to the special topics each edition includes a wealth of information that makes LevnedsmiddelBladet an important tool for the food industry.
- 4 LevnedsmiddelBladet participates in several both national and international fairs and publishes information before and after the fairs.
- 5 Once a year LevnedsmiddelBladet takes a critical view on the trade and makes an economic analysis of Denmark's 100 largest food companies with announcements of the year's winners and losers.
- 6 External specialists contribute articles covering the entire spectrum.
- 7 LevnedsmiddelBladet describes in plain language the laws and legislations of interest for the food industry.
- 8 LevnedsmiddelBladet frequently publishes articles, describing new technologies and new products and product applications.
- 9 The magazine is aimed primarily at the CEO's in the Danish food industry, but covers a wide range of readers with interest in Denmark's largest export industry.
- 10 TechMedia A/S, one of the largest magazine publishers in the Region, publishes LevnedsmiddelBladet. A professional and committed staff guarantee a high quality of the magazine.
